Volunteers needed in Madison County to assist children placed in foster care Citizen Foster Care Review Board needs volunteers to help Kentucky's children

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 20, 2005 — The Madison County Citizen Foster Care Review Board (CFCRB) is seeking volunteers to make a difference in the lives of local foster children. Volunteers are needed to review cases of children placed in foster care because of dependency, abuse and neglect. Madison County currently has nearly 100 children in foster care.

"Volunteering with a review board is a great way to contribute to the children in our community," said Mae Philbeck, CFCRB field coordinator.

The Kentucky General Assembly created the Citizen Foster Care Review Boards in 1982 as a way to decrease the time children spend in foster care. CFCRB volunteers review Cabinet for Health and Family Services files to help ensure that foster children receive the necessary services while in out-of-home care and are placed in permanent homes as quickly as possible.

Nearly 750 volunteers serve as members of the 141 local review boards across the state. In the last year alone, the boards reviewed the case files of 8,333 children who were removed from their homes and placed into foster care.

All volunteers must complete a six-hour initial training session, and consent to a criminal record and central registry check. A recommendation is then made to the chief judge of District Court or Family Court for appointment.

The Madison County/Richmond Area CFCRB meets each month at the Department for Community Based Services, 126 S. Killarney Lane, Richmond. The Madison County/Berea Area CFCRB meets each month at the Department for Community Based Services, 122 Prince Royal Drive, Berea. For more information, contact:
